EMERGENCY FIRE SERVICES

24-Hour Emergency Call Centre number and Fire Response Emergency Case Management. The vital importance of a professional firefighting service often only comes to light after the experience of an unfortunate incident, and due to a shortage for the necessary levels of fire protection that is depended on, it is crucial that a professional, privately owned, first response firefighting service is necessary to address this need and provide peace of mind to residential clients alike.
Fire Emergency Services offers this level of sophistication and expertise like no other in the market, incomparable to any current available fire service. It has since become the only viable alternative to the limited fire service available to citizens, businesses, and insurers.
